Statement of Need

The activity will address osteopathic clinicians', as well as other practicing clinicians', needs to improve knowledge, competence and/or performance for the treatment of patients with COVID-19 by applying the principles of osteopathic medicine.

This online webinar provides an overview of the unique value that osteopathic medicine can bring to the treatment of patients with influenza and COVID-19. The evidence base for the proposed use of osteopathic manipulative treatment (OMT) as part of the treatment program for patients with influenza and COVID-19 is heavily emphasized.

This live webcast will offer participants the opportunity to learn current concepts regarding the pathophysiology and treatment for COVID19. Participants will learn about how the use of OMT as part of treatment for COVID19 affects physiologic functions, the evidence base for the use of OMT for COVID19 patients, and how to participate in current and future clinical research in this area.

Target Audience

This activity is open for all osteopathic and medical physicians (DO/MD), Dentist (DDS/DMD), Medical Student (DO/MD), and International Osteopaths.

Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites for this course.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, the participant will be able to:

1. Describe the historical basis for the use of OMT for infectious diseases such as influenza and COVID-19
2. Describe the evidence base to support such use of OMT
3. Describe what further evidence is needed to establish a more firm evidence base for such use of OMT
4. Discuss what action is currently being taken to develop more evidence for such use of OMT
5. List some useful resources for the practitioner treating COVID-19 patients.

Course Cancellation & Refund Policy

By applying for this course, the applicant ("Applicant") agrees that the application fee is non-refundable and represents the administrative cost of determining the Applicant's eligibility ("Application Fee"). The application shall require the payment of the Application Fee and the registration fee for the cost of attending the course ("Registration Fee"). In the event an Applicant is denied admission to a specific course the Registration Fee shall be refunded. An accepted Applicant shall be registered for the course and the registration fee payment shall be credited against the Registration Fee for the specific course. If after registration the Applicant desires to cancel his or her registration for the course the Applicant must notify Osteopathy's Promise to Children ("OPC") of their CANCELLATION in writing, ("Notice of Cancellation"), at least fourteen (14) days prior to the initial start date for the course. If the Applicant timely and properly provides OPC with a Notice of Cancellation OPC will issue a refund of the Registration Fee to the Applicant. If OPC receives a Notice of Cancellation less than fourteen (14) days prior to the initial start date for the course, or an Applicant fails to attend the course, OPC will not issue a refund of the Registration Fee. In the event an Applicant attends the course but feels that the course did not provide the material or training advertised, an Applicant may request a refund of the Registration Fee. All such requests shall state the course name, date and times of Applicant's attendance and the specific reasons for the requested refund. The Applicant's inability to attend a portion of the course shall not constitute a valid reason for a refund. All refund decisions shall be made by the Executive Director whose decision shall be final.
